- 1) DUTIES OF HANDLER: Handler agrees to house the dog in sanitary and appropriate conditions and to provide the dog with proper exercise, nutrition, and care. The handler will make every effort to personally handle the dog at shows. In the case that scheduling conflicts arise, priority will be given to dogs that are boarded with and have been with the handler the longest; Handler will find a qualified substitute to handle the dog, and the owner is still responsible for all fees and expenses to Stephanie Hentschel. The handler has the exclusive discretion to pull a dog from a show for reasons such as, but not limited to, lameness, fear, or aggression. In the case that the handler chooses to pull a dog for such reasons, the owner will not be billed a handling fee for that day. The handler is not liable for any damage that may result from handling, boarding, or transporting your dog, not limited to theft, fire, escape, or death.
- 2) HANDLING FEES: You have read and agree to the rate & fee sheet.
- 3) EXPENSES & OTHER CHARGES: You have read and agree to the rate & fee sheet. All show expenses are divided among each dog traveling with the handler being shown at that show. Show expenses include the cost of required expenditures such as Meals, Fuel, Hotel, Travel, Reserved Grooming, RV Parking, etc. and the amount per dog per show will be included on the invoice. If the owner does not feed the handler's kennel diet (Purina ProPlan), the owner is responsible for providing dog food or for reimbursing dog food expenses which will appear on the invoice.

- 4) ASSISTANTS: Handler agrees to use an assistant that will provide the same quality of care and conditioning that is given by the handler. The choice of this assistant is solely up to the handler. Assistant will first consult with the handler prior to making decisions about veterinary care, etc., however, in the case of an emergency, the assistant will make the sole determination if emergency care is necessary, if the handler & owner cannot be reached or there is not sufficient time.
- 5) BOARDING: Dogs boarded with the handler will almost always travel to shows with the handler, even if they are not entered. This provides the dog experience in a show environment and allows the handler to continue caring for the dogs. Should the owner decide to no longer board their dog(s) with the handler, notice must be given in writing 24 hours in advance of the desired pick up date/time so that arrangements can be made to return the dog. In cases when the handler is traveling, it may be necessary for the owner to meet the handler at the show. For owners who are unable to pick up the dogs themselves, additional fees may apply for delivery and transport. All bills must be paid before the dog will be returned to the owner.
- 6) VETERINARY CARE: Current shot records and proof of rabies vaccine are required. Certain breeds, at the handler's discretion, may require a copy of the dog's most recent bloodwork panel completed by a veterinarian provided to the handler. The handler is not responsible for obtaining routine veterinary care, such as yearly exams or vaccinations. The owner(s) is responsible for all veterinary care and fees, including, but not limited to, yearly vaccinations, x-rays, treatment for parasitic infections, etc. The handler agrees to use a licensed veterinarian and any veterinary costs incurred (including travel fees to the veterinarian) while the dog is in the care of the handler will appear on the owner's next invoice.
- 7) EMERGENCY CARE: Whether or not emergency care is necessary is solely at the discretion of the handler or their assistant, if the owner cannot be reached or there is not sufficient time to reach the owner. All information relevant to decision making in an emergency care situation is the duty of the owner to provide upfront, including, but not limited to, allergies, medication restrictions, etc. In all cases, the owner will be responsible for reimbursing all fees and costs associated with emergency care. The handler agrees to use a licensed veterinarian and any veterinary costs incurred (including travel fees to the veterinarian) while the dog is in the care of the handler will appear on the owner's next invoice.
- 8) AWARDS: All ribbons and trophies will be returned to the owner. Cash prizes belong to the handler.
- 9) ENTRIES: Handler will provide a show schedule to all clients with upcoming shows and closing dates. Dog show entries are to be handled through K9 Entry Service (260-224-5553). It is the responsibility of the owner to create an account with this entry service and ensure dog registration & payment information is up to date with the service. Any entries made by the owner and not through the entry service are the sole responsibility of the owner, and entry confirmations must be sent to the handler.
- 10) CANCELLATIONS: If an owner cancels after a show has closed, handling fees for the show will appear on the owner's next invoice are the responsibility of the owner to be paid. Cancellation fees may be waived if there are extenuating circumstances requiring the cancellation.

- 11) BILLING: All fees are due within one month of the invoice. After 30 days, each bill will incur a 10% interest rate late fee every month until the bill is paid in full. There is a returned check fee of $35. All dogs will be held until all fees are paid in full.
